

Different Crystals of the Same Quantum Magnet

Picture by Dr. Daisuke Hamane

We grew the single crystals of a quantum magnet, which exhibits successive magnetic-field-induced phase transitions at around 30 tesla. Interestingly, the different shaped crystals are the same material. We will perform various high-field experiments on the appropriate crystals and uncover the mystery of the magnetic-field-induced phase.