

2D water of crystallization

The edge of the hexagon is colored, probably because of the valence shift of transition metals.

Photos by Dr. Hamane
These crystals might have 2D water of crystallization.

